The Roaring Twenties Issue

CONTENTS

PART ONE

10 - 11
RAWRING TWENTIES

The gal-dem team pays tribute to noughties pop-punk culture – emo fringes and all.

12 - 17
UNVEILING KEISHA THE SKET

The anonymous author AKA Jade LB is ready to share her own story as Stormzy's publishing imprint adds the 2000s Bluetooth viral tale to Black British canon.

18 - 19
GOD BLESS THESE 20-SOMETHINGS

An ode to the rare heart of SZA's song, which resonates now more than ever.

20 - 21
A THANK YOU TO OUR MEMBERS

gal-dem's memberships manager Yasmin Rai recounts what memberships have meant to us this year.

NIELA MARRAS, ZAINAB I ANZY, KYLA HARRIS, H ODING, BEN TIPLADY, G ANKAR, RACHEL MOORNI PHIE THOMAS, LIZ ADEL GEL ROSE, VICKY GAYLE

22 - 27
THE FORGOTTEN BLACK WOMEN OF SWING

Frustrated by the whitewashing of jazz dance's heritage, Korantema Anyimadu goes on a journey to rediscover its roots.

28 - 35
THE LEGEND OF BLACK WALL STREET

In the summer of 1921, the city of Tulsa in Oklahoma witnessed a tragedy that never made it to the history books. Now, a hundred years later, Clarkisha Kent finds a community determined to dig up a complicated truth.

PART TWO

40 - 47
STANDING OVATION

On her most ambitious project yet, Little Simz takes the stage to celebrate the glory of introspection.

48 - 51
THE SCHOOL FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE

Inside the south London academy educating the activists of tomorrow.

52 - 55
NATURE IS HEALING

In a time of land exploitation, radical gardening offers a way forward.

56 - 65
IT'S TIME FOR A FOOD REVOLUTION

How what we eat can be a catalyst for social change.

66 - 73
THE NEW SPEAKEASIES

Covid brought in social distancing, but that doesn't mean people didn't socialise underground.

PART THREE

78 - 81
PROHIBITION 2.0

As the 1971 Misuse of Drugs Act turns 50, Lakeisha Goedluck speaks to experts and campaigners about how the UK's drug laws are holding up.

82 - 83
HOW DO YOU BECOME AN ABOLITIONIST?

An abridged extract from Becoming Abolitionists, by Derecka Purnell.

84 - 89
THIS IS THE HOUSE THAT DEFIANCE BUILT

Priced out of homeownership and failed by the government, young people today are looking beyond the traditional housing market – and finding radical alternatives.

90 - 93
IMAGINE THE FUTURE OF MUSIC

After a year of stalled releases and no touring, three creators envisage something better for the way the music industry works.

94 - 97
DUA SALEH TAKES US BACK TO SCHOOL

Sex Education's Moordale Secondary School has a new pupil this term and the musician-slash-actor behind the character has always fought for black, queer Muslim and non-binary stories to be heard.

PART FOUR

100 - 107
UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL WITH KYLA HARRIS

The Brighton-based artist and filmmaker speaks to gal-dem about her 2021 documentary, an intimate study of care work in the Covid era.

108 - 109
WHAT MAKES YOU FEEL ALIVE IN THE 2020'S?

Baking, basketball, being surrounded by loved ones – we asked the people of Birmingham what's keeping them going in 2021.

110 - 111
SHROOMS SAVED MY LIFE

When traditional therapy failed me, I turned to psychedelics – and found a connection with The Divine.

112 - 113
HOW LSD HELPED ME DEAL WITH GRIEF

The mind-altering effects of acid have changed my understanding of the world.

114 - 123
FREEDOM

We asked what freedom has looked like to you in this restrictive year.

124 - 125
WHY CONFRONTING THE FUTURE CAN FEEL LIKE A RADICAL ACT

The next 10 years fill me with dread, but I won't gain anything by living in misery.

HEALTH

P28 SPIKE YOUR ENERGY
Can IV drips move the needle on your performance? We put them to the test

P43 WASH AWAY INSOMNIA
If the full eight hours elude you, then a steamy pre-bed shower is your hot tip to send sleepless nights down the drain

P60 THE PILL TO END AGEING
Growing old is optional – or so some would have you believe. Meet the bio-hackers hoping to halt the march of Father Time

NUTRITION

P26 MEAT, MEET YOUR MATCH
As Burger King introduces its meat-free Impossible Whopper, we investigate how faux beef stacks up against the real deal

P40 NOT-QUITE-DRY JANUARY
Drink in beer's benefits with our selection of the tastiest low-ABV bottles and tins

P44 FIND YOUR SWEET SPOT
A predilection for biscuits needn't sabotage your goals. Score your sugar fix from the right foods and it can even give you a boost

WEIGHT LOSS

P17 GO BACK TO BASICS
The stakes are high when selecting a food plan for 2020. We've found a simple answer

P24 FULL-BODY RESET
Undo Christmas excess and make good on your New Year's ambitions with this short, sharp HIIT circuit. Start as you mean to go on

P36 HOW TO LOSE WEIGHT FOR GOOD
Crash diets and wellness fads breed short-term gains. These sustainable hacks will ensure your resolve goes the distance

MIND

P22 TUNE IN AND DROP OUT
CBD may be a trending anxiety aid, but is it any more than snake oil? This is what happens to your body when you drop it

P35 THE SHAME GAME
MH columnist Stuart Heritage takes a long, hard look at the modern male body image

P86 LIFE ON THE SPECTRUM
Once considered a rare disorder, autism is now understood to be more common than was thought. Here's what you need to know

MUSCLE

P31 FOLLOW YOUR HEART
Tracking your heart rate can help you train smarter. Keep your finger on the pulse

P54 ADD 50KG TO YOUR DEADLIFT
Use Eddie Hall's top form tips to pile extra plates onto your bar. Results guaranteed; 500kg personal records, not so much...

HOW THE BIG ISSUE WORKS

Our vendors buy magazines for £1.50 and sell them for £3, keeping the proceeds and working their way out of poverty.

Every vendor has a unique story – they may be homeless, at risk of losing their home, long-term unemployed or dealing with mental health issues.

What they all have in common is they are earning a legitimate income while gaining valuable social and transferable skills.

If you cannot buy from a vendor, take a subscription via SUBS.BIGISSUE.COM or through The Big Issue UK app.

Retailers including the Co-op and Sainsbury's also stock the magazine in many branches.

EVERY COPY BOUGHT MAKES A DIFFERENCE. IT'S A HAND UP, NOT A HANDOUT.
